WORLD MISSIONS

Only after putting my faith in the Lord, did I realize that I have intelligence, but no wisdom. I have foresight, but not insight; am shrewd, but not smart; enlightened, but not civilized. Actually, when I am proud, I cannot compare with House Pastor ZL's humility. ZL was advanced in knowledge and wisdom, but called himself "slightly lit." I, on the other hand, pretended that I could see through everything under the sun.—A Chinese House Pastor's Reflections

INTERNATIONAL PARTNERS OF THE WEEK

Jay and Maureen Kyle serve with Redeemer City to City which assists and trains indigenous leaders in the world's 50 largest global cities to begin gospel-centered churches. As CTC's Vice President of Asia Pacific and Latin America, Jay's responsibilities include recruiting, mentoring, and coaching church planters in the megacities of Asia and Latin America. Jay is the founder, former director, and current board member of the China Partnership. Jay and Maureen also served in a church planting ministry in Mexico City, Mexico for 15 years with Mission to the World. Prior to that, Jay was MTW's Personnel Director and founder of its short-term missions program originally named SIMA. The couple has three adult children, Jenny, Amy, and Jeff.

WE'RE IN!

FPCC Becomes the 100th Church to Accept the MTW 1% Challenge

On January 28, the Session formally approved First Presbyterian Church's acceptance of Mission to the World's challenge to pray and mobilize 1% of our members to serve overseas for 1 year or longer. The PCA has a goal of sending out 1% of its adult membership—currently at about 280,000—to the foreign mission field over the next 10 years. Contact the World Missions staff if you would like to learn more about overseas service with MTW or any other mission organization. Sandy Pierce and Elinor Espinosa have experience serving in foreign countries and would love to listen to your dreams and ideas for serving abroad. Contact them at the World Missions Office at 423-648-7913.

Thank you very much for your prayer and financial support.
